Another crash at wreck prone intersection...

MINOR INJURIES REPORTED...For the second Saturday in a row, local emergency personnel responded to a two-vehicle wreck at intersection of U.S. Hwy. 84 and Ala. Hwy. 141 in the Curtis Community of Coffee County. At 12:41 p.m. Saturday afternoon, June 25, dispatchers with the Elba Police Department received report of the accident, and emergency personnel was dispatched. This accident (as shown above) involved two SUV's. According to officials on scene, it appeared the gray SUV was traveling Hwy. 141 when it crossed U.S. Hwy 84 at the intersection. The red SUV was traveling on U.S. Hwy 84 when the other vehicle failed to give proper yield to it thus causing the crash. While both vehicles sustained heavy damages in this crash, only minor injuries were reported. Above, members of the Elba Volunteer Fire Department work to secure the crash scene following the wreck.

Mayor provides progress update during council meeting

Elba working to acquire crisis diversion center

by Linda Hodge, Editor

Elba Mayor Tom Maddox updated the city council members on the progress the city has made in trying to lure the South Central Alabama Mental Health Board to Elba to construct a new rural crisis diversion center in the city.

Maddox said Tommy Wright, director of the South Central Alabama Mental Health Center, was set to be in Elba on Tuesday of this week to look at potential sites identified for crisis center to be constructed should Elba be selected. He further said that he and city clerk Sally Bane would be meeting with that board on July 28th, and that is anticipated to be the date a decision will be made regarding a location for the crisis diversion center.

ing a location for the crisis diversion center.

"We have provided them with a packet based on the property we are purchasing, but there is a possibility they will prefer another property," Maddox said. "We will find out additional information if they desire something else, but we feel like they will be pleased with the property we have shown them already."

The mayor said Wright and some of the board members from the local area had already looked at the property the city is purchasing as a potential spot for the center. This property is along Hickman Avenue across from the Enterprise Rescue Elba's "Let Freedom Ring" event set for Monday, July 4th!

The Elba Chamber of Commerce and City of Elba will host its annual 4th of July celebration "Let Freedom Ring" Monday, July 4, on the square in downtown Elba, beginning at 6 p.m.

There will be a patriotic "golf cart" parade, entertainment by Blind Skeleton, inflatable rides, contests, and food concessions available throughout the evening, and the highlight will be the fireworks show set to begin at approximately 9 p.m.

Music entertainment by Blind Skeleton is set to start around 6:30 p.m., according to Elba Chamber director Sandy Williams. Elba native Bill Brueckner is a member of this group.

"We are very excited about this year's event," Williams said. "We anticipate more food vendors to be on site than ever before, and we are looking forward to the entertainment, which features one of Elba's own!"

Williams said this is a free community event with no charge to enjoy the entertainment and fireworks. There are charges, however, for some of the children's activities and food administered by those individual vendors.

Coffee County Commission honors Elba High's state champion golf team

by Linda Hodge, Editor

The Coffee County Commission presented a resolution to the Elba High School Golf Team during its regular meeting Monday morning, June 27, in New Brockton, Ala.

The resolution congratulated the Elba Tigers on their 2022 state championship for the Alabama High School Athletic Association's Class 1A/2A boys division. It further recognized this as being the second year in a row the Elba team has brought a state championship home to Elba [and Coffee County].

As he read the resolution, commission chairman Dean Smith encouraged all citizens of Coffee County to join the county leaders in congratulating the young men from Elba on their successes.

"The Elba High School boys golf team has represented Coffee County with considerable distinction, sportsmanship and class, and the residents of Coffee County are extremely proud of the team all they have accomplished this year," Smith read. "The recognition and celebration of our championship team serves to bring our community together in honoring our students and their coach for a remarkable and historic season."

The 2022 state champion golf team members for Elba included: Peyton McCart, Collin Sauls, Carson Wise, and Paxton Wise, Jay Martin, Trace Grantham, and Bradley Chapman. The team is coached by Mark Wicker.

Coach Wicker thanked commissioners for their recognition of the team, and he said being able to win the state championship two years in a row was a true testament to the golfers being dedicated to the sport.

Four members of the team graduated this year - McCart, Sauls, and the Wise brothers. Wicker said Martin, Grantham, and Chapman would all return next season, and the team is looking to add more players.

Commissioners approve updated subdivision regulations

by Linda Hodge, Editor

County engineer Marty Lentz said his department had been working on updating the subdivision regulations for the county for several months now, and he presented that completed document for approval Monday morning. He said the last update to the county's subdivision regulations prior to Monday was 2007.

Lentz recommended the effective date for the new regulations be Jan. 1, 2023 to allow time for developers to review and become

One change Lentz specifically noted was a revision to the thickness of asphalt for new road construction within subdivisions. He said that thickness had been increased.

"We encourage developers to go to our website and download a copy of this updated document or they can pay to have us print them a copy," Lentz said.

Commissioners voted unanimously to approve the update subdivision regulations.

"Don't knock the weather. If it didn't change once in a while, nine out ten people couldn't start a conversation." — Kin Hubbard.

Alabama has released some federal funds that are earmarked for weatherizing homes for elderly, low-income residents. That sounds great until you read the fine print. The amount coming to the twelve (12) county area which includes Coffee County totals $46,316! Divide that evenly between the twelve counties and you get a bit over $3,859 per county AND that is before the district office gets the allotted "administrative cost" and official audit of every home that potentially qualifies for the grants off the top (which is sometimes limited to five or ten percent of the grant)! Organized Community Action Program Inc., headquartered in Troy, leads this twelve county group. (Barbour, Bullock, Butler, Coffee, Covington, Crenshaw, Dale, Geneva, Henry, Houston, Lowndes, and Pike).

There is lots of celebrating the Supreme Court ruling released Monday that allows a football coach to pray aloud on the 50-yard line after a football game. They cited freedom of religion and freedom of speech. However, this is a double edge sword! This freedom of religion and speech stuff applies to EVERYONE and EVERY religion. Therefore if some religion (or someone we call a 'nut' case) you or I don't like wants to pray aloud . . . they can't legally be stopped.

Following the Supreme Court ruling this week on abortion we read in some church news releases that The United Methodist Church expresses belief in "the sanctity of unborn human life" but also recognizes "tragic conflicts of life that may justify abortion". We didn't realize that our thinking on abortion was closely tracking that of our church. We have never considered advising, nor encouraging, anyone family, friend, or foe to consider an abortion. In the same breath we have never condemned anyone for making such a decision, for whatever reason. There probably are situations where we would openly agree with someone for making such a decision. All that sounds like political banner . . . "Some of my friends are for it and some of my friends are against it — and I am with my friends." This position is not new. We recall a situation during our teen years when a young hometown girl was rumored to have sought out an illegal abortion, reportedly in a neighboring town and don't recall having any negative opinions of her actions. (We did have hopes that she didn't get some infection or bleed to death in that illegal abortion clinic). A couple of times since becoming an adult we have been asked, "where can someone get an abortion?" Each time they were asking 'for a friend' but our answer was always, "I don't know."

The "January 6" hearings are continuing in Washington. Some frightening statements are coming out of those public hearings. The question arises, "What will come of these hearings?" While our personal opinion is that laws were broken and could have resulted in a national disaster, the bottom line will be lots of fodder for the history books but no one will go to jail. Much more damaging comments will undoubtedly be issued, but time, waning public interest, and other major problems (war, storms, crashing economies, etc.) will gradually push this to the back burner and to a withering death.

Be safe, wear your mask when appropriate, social distance and get the shots.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Community Member,

The COVID-19 pandemic took all by surprise, locking us in our homes, losing loved ones to this deadly virus, and forcing us to produce new hobbies we never thought we would do, such as making bread from scratch.

Now that we are coming back to a new norm of life, we realized that going into quarantine caused many of us to come out with extra pounds that are too stubborn to get rid of. Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Incorporated and Good Health Wins are partnering with Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity, Inc. to host the "Walk Covid Weight Off" Walk on Aug. 20th. This event will take place at the Troy Sportsplex Trail from 8 am until 12 pm.

We are looking for vendors. Our goal is to encourage good health, give people ideas of how to shed the extra weight and have fun. Along with you and others as vendors, we will have food, music, games for kids, keynote speaker and line dance instructor.

In becoming a vendor, we are asking that you supply small items to promote your business that you can give to our attendees. It can be anything that your business would like to contribute. You may bring a tent and table to set up your space. We only ask that you can bring a gift of your choice from your business that you would like to raffle off during the walk. In return, we will promote your business as an official vendor at the event.

If your business is interested in becoming an official vendor, please let us know your participation status via email at bpeyton21@gmail.com or by phone on 251-930-3250. The deadline to inform us of your participation status is July 20th.

Sincerely,
Blessa Peyton, Walk Covid Off Walk Chair

Editor's Note: Cuzin Lou Lou's tales are to be enjoyed as a light-hearted form of Southern expression

Cuzin Lou Lou has determined that Sister and Papa have a sweet set-up when it comes to doing things around the house.

Last Saturday was supposed to be "clean up" day around the Yonder gang's house, and it started out pretty well, but soon Lou Lou realized she was the only one actually making progress towards the ultimate goal. Papa got 'excused' from the work early because he was not feeling well.

Lou Lou did not remember excusing Sister from her part of the chores...yet, she looked up from scrubbing the shower at some point to find Sister in the bed taking a nap! Her excuse when Lou Lou pointed this out was that Lou Lou had "kept her out too late the night before" when the two AGREED to a little road trip.

While frustrated with Sister, Lou Lou did not let it deter her from accomplishing the things she had set out to do on Saturday! However, it really hit her later in the evening that she was 'spoiling' the Yonder gang!

Not only had she completed the majority of the day's housework, but she found herself cooking supper for the gang too!!

Lou Lou decided she's got to get better control of the household before things spiral way out of control... honestly, it may be too late already!

Until next time...God Bless and Keep Smiling!

Maddox said closing on the purchase of that property is slated for late next week.

Also, he said when city officials attend the July 28th board meeting for the South Central Alabama Mental Health Board several 'letters of support' would be provided to that board from various community leaders in support of Elba being the site for the new diversion center.

"We feel good about it, but there will be some competition," Maddox said. "We are going to try to be sure we do our best to convince them Elba is the place they need to be. We are excited about it and ask you to keep it in your prayers."

Regarding a couple of other projects, the mayor said work is progressing in getting the new Elba Healthcare facility open. He said the city/healthcare board had done everything it needed to do to get the facility open.

Options for Pallbearer Gifts

Although serving as a pallbearer is considered an honor by many, it is also important for surviving family members - specifically those arranging the funeral - to show their appreciation for the services these individuals provide. In some services, family members may fill this role if necessary, but most will ask close friends or congregation members to serve as active or honorary pallbearers. It is likely that those fulfilling this role may find the experience emotional, and it is important to respect this response.

Providing a gift is a great way to say "thank you" and allow pallbearers to commemorate their own experience in the service. Some ideas for pallbearer gifts include:

Framed Photographs of the Deceased. Individuals may select a uniform photograph placed in a nice silver frame to give to all pallbearers, as a way for them to capture the memory of their deceased loved one. If possible, some may choose to personalize each gift by providing each pallbearer with a unique framed photo capturing his or her relationship with the deceased.

Customized Tokens of Appreciation. Those who want to do something special for the pallbearers' service may choose to select a customized gift for each individual. Apart from photographs, these tokens of appreciation may include simple jewelry pieces, pressed flowers from the funeral or an inscribed memorial plaque. Some may even choose to gift something of the deceased that correlates to his or her relationship with the pallbearer, such as a book or music album.

Thank You Notes. Although it is customary for pallbearers to send thank you notes to the surviving members of the family, those planning the funeral can also consider writing a message to honor the service of these individuals. Thank you notes can be brief and only need to express gratitude for support and service during the funeral.

There is no standard for pallbearer gifts, but those who opt to provide them should make sure that the gesture is meaningful and honors the service - even if just a small token of gratitude.

PASTOR'S CORNER

Westside Baptist Church, Elba

Timber!

My dad always loved his yard. He took great pride in having what he considered to be one of the best looking yards in the neighborhood. Actually, he came by it honestly; my grandfather had quite the green thumb and enjoyed yard work greatly. My grandfather used words like "mulch" and "aerate" when he talked about his yard and his eyes would light up. My dad had been groomed to be an expert in the area of lawn maintenance and he definitely had not been a disappointment.

Dad spent many hours in the yard on Saturdays and on days off. There was grass to be cut, raked, fertilized, and/or watered. Shrubs had to be trimmed and azaleas had to be trimmed around. Then there were things like herbicide and insecticide, which did God only knows what to weeds and bugs, that had to be spread or sprayed on plants and bushes. There was always something that could be done in the yard if there was time to spare.

Yard work was my father's way of unwinding from the stresses of practicing medicine. It was a chance to be by himself for a while, and he enjoyed the release. Being in the ministry and the father of four, I now understand full well what an escape yard work can be. When I was young, however, I tried to be scarce when Dad was working in the yard. Of course, that was just the way he wanted it, until I was old enough to push a lawnmower.

We had a pretty large corner lot in a wooded neighborhood so we had lots of grass and lots of trees. For a while my dad had a pretty good system going. My brother and I would weed-eat and cut the grass while my dad would supervise. For one person it was an all day project, but with two it could be done on a Saturday morning leaving, the afternoon free.

After my brother went to college my dad changed his strategy. We got two lawnmowers and he and I could cut at the same time, thus reducing the time. This worked well for a few years, but, as I got older and involved in more activities, Dad ended up doing more and more of the work himself. Once again, a strategy change was necessary. After much deliberation my father made a monumental decision. The time had come to buy a riding lawnmower.

My dad's buying a riding lawnmower was like the Beatles making a disco album. I never thought he would bring himself to break down and get one. I think he thought it was lazy to ride while you cut grass. Whatever the case, Dad had made his mind up and there was no stopping him. It was time!

I went with him to Sears to pick out his new mower. I figured I might be using it some and I wanted to see what we were getting. He looked rather unimpressed with some of the larger tractor style mowers that I liked. I wanted "power," not maneuverability. Dad, however, wanted something that would be easier to handle around all our trees, so he picked a smaller, less tractor-looking mower. It was more like a seat on top of a motor with a steering wheel and blade underneath.

I was a little afraid of what the neighbors might say about our strange looking riding lawnmower as they cut their yards atop their lawn tractors. Frankly, ours looked a little sissy. Dad liked it though, and that was what was important. He would be the one they saw on it most of the time anyway. Maybe I could use it at night.

My next-door neighbor John Pegues (his dad had a lawn tractor) and I were playing in the yard a few days later when the Sears truck pulled into the driveway. We watched as they unloaded the strange looking little red machine. I heard the sarcasm in John's voice as he said,

An Unquenchable Fire

Those four "doughnuts" of black rubber on which our cars ride are infinitely better than the solid tires that were used on early automobiles. The smooth ride and precise handling that we enjoy in our cars are two of the numerous benefits of modern technology. However, there is a downside to these wonders: disposal. The State of California alone discards thirty million used tires every year, and that's a problem.

One summer day, near the town of Tracy, California, a pile of seven million used tires caught fire. The shape of tires makes such a fire very difficult to extinguish. Air is trapped and readily available to feed the fire even as water or other flame retardants are blocked from reaching it. Thus, months later, the "tire fire" was still burning out of control, sending a ball of black, pollutant filled smoke over the countryside.

On the day of Pentecost, a strange phenomenon occurred. The place where the apostles were gathered was filled with the roar of a "rushing mighty wind" – perhaps like the sound of a tornado. Then, what resembled a flame appeared upon each of the apostles.

This was the beginning of a "fire" that has been impossible to extinguish. It was a fire that burned, not on the heads but in the hearts of those who became fervent followers of Jesus Christ. Two millennia later, the message of the gospel is still a consuming fire that has spread around the world, burning the pollution of sin out of the hearts of those who yield to the cleansing power of Jesus. – C.R.B.

LIFESTYLES

Danny Long approved as president of ESCC

During its regular meeting on Wednesday, June 8, the Alabama Community College System Board of Trustees approved Danny Long as the sixth president of Enterprise State Community College. Long has served as Acting President of the College since March.

"The Wiregrass community is a special part of Alabama that has a significant role in the state's workforce, which is why a skilled career technical leader like Danny with a heart for the community and for education makes perfect sense," said Jimmy H. Baker, Chancellor of the Alabama Community College System (ACCS). "Danny knows the College, the communities it serves, K-12 and industry, and he knows what it takes to continue our mission of making education available for everyone."

Long has nearly 30 years of K-12 and higher education experience. Prior to his appointment as Acting President at Enterprise State, Long had served as Dean of Instruction at the College since 2017 and as Vice President since 2020. His collaborative efforts with business and industry helped to develop and implement new instructional programs at the College, including Advanced Composites (AAS), Mechatronics (AAS), a Commercial Driver's License (CDL) training program, Digital Multimedia (AAS), EMS (AAS), Medical Assisting Technology (AAS), Basic Industrial Electronics (STC), Basic Industrial Mechanics (STC), CNC Operator/Programmer (STC), Licensed Practical Nursing Program (LPN), and Auditing and Assurance (AAS). Long worked alongside the President to oversee major improvement and construction projects on both campuses at both Enterprise State and the Alabama Aviation College.

A Sarasota, Fla. native, Long began his career in education at Vivian B. Adams School in Ozark, where he served as both a special education teacher and assistant director. He then served at Enterprise High School, where he was a teacher, coordinator, career technical education director and assistant principal.

Long is an alum of Troy University, where he earned a Bachelor of Science in Vocational Education, Master's in Special Education, Master's in Education Leadership, and an Educational Special Degree in Educational Leadership.

"Enterprise State and the Alabama Aviation College are where we are because of the strong investment of faculty, staff, community, K-12 and business and industry partners who give us insight on what they need and trust our willingness to be there when they need us," Long said. "I'm thankful for the opportunity to lead several innovative efforts in programs that matter to our region and our state, and I'm appreciative for the confidence our community college system and our community has in Enterprise continuing to rise together."

Seniors encouraged to join the fun at the Elba Senior Citizens Center

Donna Falls, director of the Elba Senior Citizens Center, encourages all seniors age 60 and older to attend the Elba Senior Citizens Center.

Along with nutritious meals 5-days-per-week, Falls works with seniors to help them apply for several programs that they may qualify, including: Farmers Market Vouchers, HRDC- Energy Assistance, Food Assistance, Medicaid Waiver, Senior Rx Program, Medicare Savings Program, etc. However, the senior must be an active participant at the Elba Senior Center for the director to sign them up for these type programs.

To become a center participant, attendance is not based on income. The Elba Senior Citizens Center is a social place for any senior citizen to come have fun and find or make new friends.

If interested in joining the center, stop by [304 Factory Ave in downtown Elba] or call (334) 897-3019.

Any senior age 60 and older that cannot come to the center may qualify for meal delivery to the home. Call Donna Falls at (334) 897-3019 for more information.

PASTOR'S CORNER...

"That thing sure looks different than my dad's." "Yea, well, we got more trees than y'all do," I said in a desperate attempt to save face, but I knew he was right.

My dad excitedly filled it up with gas and cranked it up. It was loud, which made me feel a little better. I don't know what might have been said if it had been quiet on top of odd looking. Dad hopped on and began to ride around the yard. It did maneuver well, no question about it. He dropped the blade and began to cut a little to see how it looked. He was pleased with the beautiful strip of cut grass that stretched out behind him. In fact, he was so pleased with what was behind him he forgot to look ahead of him. He ran right into one of our loblolly pine trees. Quickly jarred back into reality, he tried to remember how to stop this machine he was riding. As Dad frantically tried to get the mower out of gear, the front end began to inch up the trunk of the tree. John stared wide eyed as my dad's riding lawnmower came close to vertical while hearing my dad curse loudly as he tried to stop the runaway machine.

When Dad finally stopped the mower and got it out of the tree, I puffed my chest up proudly and said to John, "I bet your dad's lawnmower won't do that". John never made fun of my dad's mower again. Dad used that mower for several years after that, but he never spent much time looking behind him; he kept his eyes on where he was headed.

Jesus had a little to say about looking where we have been. "No one who puts his hand to the plow and looks back is fit for service in the kingdom of God." (Luke 9:62) In other words, our purpose as Christians should be in front of us. We can't do anything about what is behind, us whether it is good or bad. However, we have the power through Him to do something with the future.

COMMUNITY NEWS

Beverly Daniels-Hamilton, center, presented four Holy Angels Gospel Singers scholarships to Elba seniors Saturday, June 18, at Elba High School. The four seniors graduated in May. They are (from left): Ty'Andrea Tillis, Victori Edwards, Trent Hamilton, and Tamiah Tillis. Each recipient received $400 in scholarship money.

Holy Angels Gospel Singers Scholarships awarded

In 1975, a group of 10 and 11-year-old children from Harris Temple COGIC and the Mulberry Heights Community came together to form the Holy Angels Gospel Singers, under the leadership of Rosa Coleman.

Throughout elementary, high school, and well into their college years, the Holy Angels ministered musically the gospel of Jesus Christ throughout the states of Alabama and Florida. The group never really broke up but went out to pursue their God-given purposes. For 46 years the members have made tremendous contributions in furthering the Kingdom of God.

In an effort to give back to their beloved hometown of Elba, the Holy Angels Gospel Singers in the year of 2021, established a Scholarship Fund to assist in supporting the dreams of senior Elba High School students. The scholarships are presented annually.

The 2022 recipients are Ty'Andrea Tillis, Tamiah Tillis, Trenton Hamilton, and Victori Edwards. Each recipient submitted an application and brilliant essay and received an award of $400.

Presentations were made by Beverly Daniels Hamilton. Other members of the Holy Angels present were Carmen Coleman Kelley, Marie Daniels Liptrot, Cynthia Ware Rowe, Delinda Stinson, Florence Barnes, Charlotte Robinson Whitehurst, and Patti Williams Culver.

Each scholarship was presented in memory of Daryl Crittenton, Charlie R. Sco-niers Jr., Tierney Eliard Foshee (members), and Velma Coleman (Sponsor). They are no longer with us but as our theme song states, "we will always be together".

ALEA's Marine Patrol Division reminds citizens to be safe on the waterways this 4th of July holiday weekend

As the Fourth of July holiday weekend draws near, Troopers with the Alabama Law Enforcement Agency's (ALEA) Marine Patrol Division anticipate a tremendous number of citizens to come and enjoy one of Alabama's beautiful waterways. As citizens prepare for the excitement and festivities both near and far, Troopers would like to remind everyone to be courteous, but most importantly to keep safety in mind.

"Our goal is to protect those in the communities we serve and to ensure that recreational boaters, paddlers, fishermen, and others who visit our waters are able to enjoy their time with family and friends safely," said ALEA Secretary Hal Taylor. "Each year, our Agency joins law enforcement agencies across the nation in a safety initiative known as Operation Dry Water (ODW). This safety campaign is scheduled closely to every Fourth of July holiday in an effort to educate boaters on the dangers of boating under the influence and reduce the number of crashes on Alabama's waterways."

With this year's Independence Day falling on a Monday, the holiday travel period will encompass the entire weekend, beginning at 12:01 a.m. Friday, July 1, and ending at midnight Monday, July 4. ALEA's Marine Patrol Division developed a new slogan to provide boaters with an easy and fun way to remember an extremely serious topic "Be the G.O.A.T (Greatest of All Time) in Your Boat and wear your PFD."

"We want everyone who decides to enjoy one of Alabama's waterways this Fourth of July weekend to have the opportunity to relax and enjoy themselves. However, everyone's excitement and enthusiasm must be partnered with preparation and responsibility. Recently, we have seen far too many tragic events on Alabama waterways, which is why our Agency is so dedicated and passionate about boater safety as well as education," said ALEA's Director of Public Safety Colonel Jimmy Helms.

Chief Steve Thompson of ALEA's Marine Patrol Division agreed and said, "Our goal is to ensure that everyone can have a safe experience while on an Alabama waterway. We will continue to focus on and share important information with citizens as well as the visitors who plan to celebrate Independence Day in our state. Our Marine Patrol Troopers will be using targeted enforcement tactics as they patrol across the state's waterways this holiday weekend. If you are found operating a vessel under the influence, you will be arrested and taken to jail. There will be zero tolerance."

"Safety and preparation are two fundamental characteristics that we all utilize in everyday life, but these are especially essential when you are operating a vessel or participating in any type of water-related activity," added Secretary Taylor. "It only takes a second, for an exciting trip to the lake or beach to turn into a tragedy, that could ultimately cost an individual their life. Situational awareness is key but being fully prepared while on the water is a necessity. It is imperative that everyone uses a U.S. Coast Guard approved Personal Flotation Device (PFD) while in or near the water. In law enforcement we use the term "Expect the Unexpected," and we encourage citizens and visitors of Alabama to do the same, especially while on the water. Anything can happen, an individual could slip and fall from a vessel and be beneath the waters' surface in a matter of seconds. PFDs save lives and that is exactly what we want this upcoming Fourth of July holiday weekend."

Lastly, the Alabama Law Enforcement Agency would like to remind all boaters to keep a close eye on the weather and check for updates on weather conditions with your trusted news source. If you encounter a summer storm over the holiday weekend, please be patient and avoid being on the water if any type of significant weather is in the area. Storms and precipitation affect a variety of the elements that must be in place to safely operate a vessel.

Our grandson Lawson made his first trip to the beach during summer vacation over the weekend and except for the long trip seemed to enjoy the one-day outing. As he gets older the beach trips get less attractive due to the trip, the sand, and the sun, but he never complains and makes the best of the long day.

For what it is worth....

 At most smaller schools there is really just one group of multi-sport student-athletes and that is certainly the case here at Elba High as the various sports share their players for practices and summer playdates. I went to the school one morning last week and there weren't even twenty football players for summer workouts due to the basketball team being out of town for a day of competition, and then headed over to the gym where a much larger group was hard at work at volleyball workouts. The last time I visited summer workouts the opposite was true on a day the girls basketball team was out of town. So, sharing players is just a necessary evil at small schools and is a problem the coaches deal with. The band will begin its workouts soon, and while it will practice in the late afternoon early evenings, many of the same student-athletes will head to band practice after a morning filled with workouts. Being a student in high school is a very busy life and everyone needs to stop and realize the sacrifices student-athletes make on a daily basis.

 The Atlanta Braves welcomed Freddie Freeman back to town over the weekend for a series with the Dodgers and it was obvious from the start that the Braves fan still love their former all-star first baseman and that the feelings are mutual with Freeman loving Atlanta. He shed a few tears when he walked into the park on Friday and saw a dozen Braves fans still wearing his old jersey, had to stop a pre-game interview after becoming choked up while talking to reporters, and the tears were flowing in pre-game ceremonies when he received his world championship ring. I know the Braves and Freeman both made financial decisions that were best for them, but last weekend's series showed that money isn't always the most important factor in enjoyment.

 I attended a state softball umpires camp over the weekend up in Oxford and as a clinician and was a little disappointed that less than fifty umpires from across the state chose to attend the annual instructional camp. The AHSAA and other nationwide groups have been warning of an umpire shortage for years, and after last weekend's camp it is clear the shortage is already here. The actions of fans are an obvious source of the loss of officials, but I believe the underlying problem many don't understand is the starting times for games and the fact everyone that may want to officiate high school sports cannot take off work a couple of days a week. Back years ago in basketball the 'b game' would start at 6:00, followed by the varsity game. Now the 'jv' game starts at 4:30, followed by a varsity girls game and a varsity boys game. Many officials must leave work early and then don't get back home until around 10:00, which makes for a long day. One possible solution is basketball is to play girls games two nights a week with a later starting time and play the boys on two other nights, also with a later starting time. The same change in starting times could be used in all sports to help the officials, which is a must, since the games can't be played without officials.

 In closing.... High school football season is now less than two months away and it is almost time for area fans to start trash-talking about upcoming games and how good their favorite teams are going to be. Get ready!!

Tigers battle through hot weather

The Elba Tigers continued their summer workouts last week on the football practice field and despite near record high temperatures never missed a beat as they remained focused on individual and team improvement in four days of work.

"We have been working out in the morning all summer, which really pays dividends when the weather gets hot," said Tigers head coach Marc Sieving. "We make sure the players get plenty of water and hydration fluids, and take a few extra breaks between periods, but there is no decrease in effort when they are at work and last week just showed how dedicated and determined all the players are to being the best they can be when the upcoming season kicks off in late August."

Coach Sieving, entering his third season at the Elba helm, stated the players had been going to camps and getting individual attention during the summer workouts.

"We had nine linemen attend a camp at South Alabama and it helped the entire group grow up and gain a sense of team work, and we have other players attend position camps in which they got individual attention from some of the best college coaches in the nation. We work four days a week on the practice field and in the weight room, and even when we are down in numbers due to players attending basketball play dates the players that stay work hard and get after each other. It is encouraging to watch this group of young men come to workouts and give it everything they have every minute, despite the heat. We as coaches appreciate the efforts and dedication of the players and

Lady Tigers are hard at work in volleyball workouts

The Elba Lady Tigers have been working hard in recent weeks on conditioning and individual volleyball skills and coach Melissa Mularz is optimistic the upcoming edition of the Lady Tigers could be a team to watch in the 1A ranks.

"We had nine seniors on last season's team," said Coach Mularz, "so, we are basically starting all over this season. We have a good group of players that learned the game last season on the junior varsity team, and we have a couple of girls that didn't play a year ago. When you combine that, we have a team that should have good depth at various positions and I expect it to be a team that takes the next step in volleyball at Elba High."

Coach Mularz stated a total of 36 players are taking part in the summer workouts that will play on the varsity, junior varsity and junior high squads, and conditioning has been a point of emphasis at all workouts.

"All of our conditioning routine is devoted to making the players better volleyball players, not just making them sweat and be sore after we get through," said Coach Mularz. "We work to help the players jump higher, jump quicker, move faster on side-steps and get in position to make a return volley or save a ball in the gap. Everything we get excited watching the players work."

The players and coaches will get a short break early in July to give them a chance to refuel and enjoy time away from the field. However, after that Coach Sieving reported it will be right back to work.

"We will change some things up a little when we get back from the holiday break and will have the entire team here every day," added Sieving. "We will attend two seven-on-seven camps in July and while we are obviously not a passing team, we do throw the ball and need to be able to be successful when we do. The camps will give the quarterbacks and receivers a chance to work on their skills, and at the same time it will allow the defensive backs and linebackers to work on pass defense. We won't run a single play out of our single wing and won't run the ball, but we will get after our opponents and try to take the next step toward being a better player and a better team."
